—Richard Ryland, of Reno, will superintend the construction of John Sweeney's new building.

Why is This?

Yesterday the Gattling gun which belongs to the State Armory, was shipped to Reno. What in the world does Reno want of the Gattling gun? The place for it is in the State Armory, and not at Reno.

Olcovich Brothers.

The well-known dealers in General Merchandise, call the attention of the public to the following facts: They have on hand a large and well-selected stock of Shoes. These they offer at a sacrifice.

Everybody is invited to call and inspect before purchasing elsewhere. feb4

He Knew How to Advertise.

The following "ad" of a grocery firm of Kirksville, Mo., is ingenious: "Any man who drinks two drachms of whisky per day for a year, and pays ten cents a drink for it, can have at our store thirty sacks of flour, 220 pounds of granulated sugar, and 72 pounds of good green coffee for the same money and get $2 50 premium for making the change in his expenditures." A grocer has ciphered out the above "ad" and claims that the grocer would clear $8 30 on the offer.

NOTICE.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT of the State of Nevada, in and for the State of Nevada.

In the Matter of the Estate of JOHN DOWNING, Deceased.

In accordance with and in pursuance to the laws of the State of Nevada, notice is hereby given that Tuesday, the third day of April, A. D., 1888, at 10 o'clock A. M., of said day, and at the Court Room of said above named Court, at the Court House in Carson City, Nevada, has been appointed as the time and place for proving the will of said JOHN DOWNING, deceased, and for hearing the application of D. P. Hickey for the issuance to him of letters testamentary, when and where any person interested may appear and contest the same.

Dated Carson City, Nev., March 23rd, 1888.
WM. H. Y. DOANE,
County Clerk.

She, Who Must be Obeyed.

Barrows & Staley's grand spectacular dramatic production of She will appear at the Opera House Friday March 30th. The company is a mammoth one, numbering some thirty people, including in the cast Miss Emma Heath, Miss Louise Hunter, Jas. O. Barrows and Geo. C. Staley. The drama "She" was first presented in the United States at the Tivola, San Francisco, in operatic form under Mr. Jas. O. Barrow's version and direction. Mr. Barrows spent months in arranging the plot and the drama with the mystic scenes and situations told in this startling and romantic novel. Then followed a big law suit over the right of the drama that took time and money. Mr. Barrows not liking "She" in operatic form did not follow up the suit, but turned his attention to a dramatic version, and, together with Fred Essex, and Englishman, scholar and traveler, commenced the spectacular dramatic production. Every one who saw this version by Mr. Essex was loud in its praise, and congratulated Messrs. Barrows and Staley on striking the key note to "She." All that was lacking in the old plot is now filled with bright and interesting situations that will make this realistic production the coming event in dramatic circles. All the scenery in the Opera House will be removed and the stage filled with magnificent settings coming with this mammoth production. The costumes, fittings and mechanical effects are all got up at an enormous expense especially for this company. The management is under Mr. McFadden of Boston.

Being More Pleasant

To the taste, more acceptable to the stomach, and more truly beneficial in its action, the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, is rapidly superceding all others. Try it. One bottle will prove its merits. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, agent.

Denial.

Mr. Geo. C. Thaxter wishes the APPEAL to deny the stories floating around that his son Curtis has some contagious disease.

NEVADA REPRESENTATIVES.

Pen Pictures of Stewart, Jones and Woodburn.

The following sketches of Senators Stewart and Jones and Congressman Woodburn appear in the Washington correspondence of the San Francisco Examiner:

SENATOR STEWART.

Senator Stewart of Nevada is the active Senator from that State. He has half a dozen measures pending of importance to Nevada and the Coast. Stewart is an old hand in Washington, and knows how to push things in committee and out of it. He is getting on in years; his hair and great white beard are growing whiter every day, but he has lost none of his capacity for work. Stewart is no longer a very rich man, and his family are therefore living here quietly and unostentatiously. He is Chairman on Committee on Mines and Mining and a member of each of the following:

Civil Service, Claims, Military Affairs, Private Land Claims, and Territory—all important committees. He has several important bills in the Senate. One is to enforce the present restrictions on Chinese immigration; another is to establish a United States Land Court to hear all cases in which the claims to public lands are disputed by the land officials. He also has a bill to encourage irrigation in the Pacific States, also to allow the possessors of bullion, gold or silver to deposit it in any Mint and receive in return its value in coin certificates, thus practically establishing free coinage. The Senator has a bill which has already passed the Senate, and will probably go safely through the House, to establish an Indian school at Carson, Nev. Stewart is indefatigable in his attendance in the Senate, and is an active and alert committee-man. He does not often speak on any question, and never unless he has something to say.

SENATOR JONES.

Mr. Stewart's colleague, Senator Jones of Nevada, is, next to Reagan of Texas, the laziest man in the Senate. Jones is getting immensely rich again, and the piling up of his new fortune seems to have an absorbing fascination for the man who already feels that he has got all out of his Senatorial career that he is ever likely to get. The rise in real estate in Southern California and particularly in Los Angeles and Santa Monica, has already put two or three new millions into Jones' pocket, and his interests on the Comstock and in Alaska have brought him as much more. No wonder that he is becoming negligent of his duties in the Senate. The record fails to show that he has up to date introduced a single bill or resolution. As Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures of the Senate, he has made three or four reports in favor of employing as many stenographers, but that, according to the record, it is as far as his public duties have carried him this session. Jones is a "good fellow," however, and has lost none of his old time popularity, and not a day passes that he does not receive congratulations on his agreeable change of fortune. By the way, Jones is understood to say that the chap that gets this pile away from him will be a good deal smarter Aleck than ever tackled him before. Nous verrons. Already, it is said, the boys have got him into a Salt Lake and Los Angeles railroad scheme—long ago a pet idea of his.

REPRESENTATIVE WOODBURN OF NEVADA.

Mr. Woodburn of Nevada is so seldom in his seat that he has the appearance of negligence. But poor Woodburn has had a load to carry all the session. His children have been sick for weeks, and his little boy now is even at the point of death, and the father for weeks has watched nightly by his bedside. The children's mother died three years ago and Mr. Woodburn rarely leaves them out of his sight. Mr. Woodburn has introduced in the House all of Senator Stewart's bills, and one of his own, to amend the Rind Silver Act of 1875, striking out the words, "two million per month." The effect of this would be to compel the Government to buy and coin not less than $4,000,000 of silver per month, instead of the minimum of $2,000,000, as now. Mr. Woodburn's purpose is to compel the Government to purchase and coin the entire silver output of the United States.

A Slight Mistake.

Yesterday a theatrical agent ran up against Prof. Hoffman, who has the management of Sweeney's famous [stallion, "Gibraltar," and remarked:

"Can I get a date for Miss Ward?"

"Yes, certainly, any time you say."

"Well, say the eighth of next month."

"You consider her a trifle fast, don't you?"

"Trifle fast! What are you getting at, sir?"

"Ain't Miss Ward the little sorrel mare that trotted that fast second heat at Reno, last fall?"

"No, you d— fool, she's an emotional actress with the Ward Comedy Company. Aint't you John Piper, the theatrical manager?"

"No, I'm Hoffman, the horse-man. I manage 'Gibraltar' for John Sweeney, and when you came round for dates I s'posed you—"

"Oh, that's all right, old boy, let's have a drink. Do you know you are the dead image of John Piper?"

"Well, so I've been told, but I never got so badly mixed up before with him."

Hoffman got two reserved seats before they parted.
